

DPIR
DEPARTMENT OF POLITICS &
INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

DPIR CENTRE FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDIES

A public lecture of the Centre for the Resolution of Intractable Conflict (CRIC), at Harris Manchester College, in association with CIS and DPIR

'Will to Fight: Facing the Islamic State Revolution'

Speaker:

Professor Scott Atran

(Director of Research in Anthropology at the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique, Paris)

Chair:

Professor, the Lord Alderdice

(Director of CRIC, Oxford)

Wednesday 28th September at 6pm

Charles Wellbeloved Room, Harris Manchester College, Mansfield Road Building, Oxford

Scott Atran is an American and French anthropologist who was until recently Presidential Scholar at the John Jay College of Criminology in New York and is currently a Director of Research in Anthropology at the Centre National de la Recherche Scientifique in Paris and co-founder of ARTIS International and of the Centre for the Resolution of Intractable Conflict at the University of Oxford. Based on his fieldwork with terrorists and Islamic fundamentalists, as well as political leaders, he has written widely in the academic and popular press about terrorism, violence and religion and is frequently called upon to advise the US Government and Congress, the United Nations and other international agencies. This public lecture is in conjunction with the CRIC 2016 Annual Conference.

Tickets not required, but please leave a message at 020 7219 5050 to note your attendance for practical purposes